AC2000 Personnel Clear Down

Data Housekeeping Utility

FEATURES

OVERVIEW

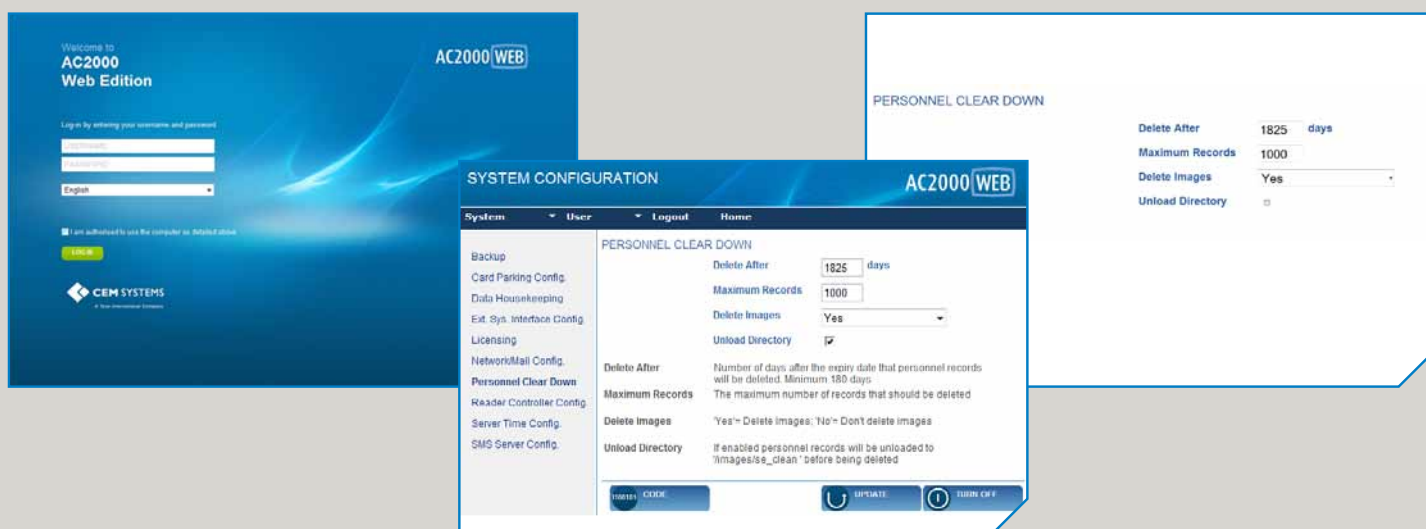

AC2000 Personnel Clear down is a data housekeeping utility that automatically deletes expired personnel records from the AC2000 database.

The Personnel Clear Down tool is activated via a Licence key, which is provided by CEM Systems. System administrators gain access to the personnel clear down tool via the AC2000 Web Application. The user friendly web interface allows an administrator to specify when the personnel and card details are to be deleted i.e. how many days after a cardholder's last expiry date need to elapse before automatic deletion. The administrator can also specify whether images are to be deleted.

A feature of the Personnel Clear Down tool, available by selecting the setting, is the ability to restore deleted records from the system hard drive in the event that these records maybe required at a later date.

The benefits of the Personnel Clear Down utility include the ability to increase system memory capacity by removing unwanted data from the AC2000 database, improving the speed and efficiency of personnel record queries. Additional benefits include providing the capability to restore deleted personnel records at a later date if required.

- Delete old personnel records from the AC2000 SE database
- Provides a web based interface to configure automatic data removal process
- Restore facility protecting against of accidental record removal
